PRESS RELEASE – HellsGate Haunted House Returns Sept. 29th

WHAT: HellsGate Haunted House | HellsGate.com

Hidden deep in the woods, HellsGate is a multi-level mansion filled with secret passages, giant slides, ghastly secrets, undead abominations, really nervous groundskeepers and a darkness that the gate can no longer contain! This is not just a haunted house, it's an adventure!

Since you were a kid, you've heard about the haunted house with the giant slide, the one hidden out in the woods, the one where you can win your money back, but you were never able to find it... until now! It's HellsGate Haunted House, and it has returned.

This October, Zombie Army Productions, the creative team that brought you the award-winning Statesville Haunted Prison and Zombie Containment at Navy Pier have joined forces with Legacy Events to resurrect the Legend. The Zombie Army is known for its highly aggressive interactive experiences that leave customers feeling as if they had just walked through a horror movie. This October, they are raising the bar at HellsGate. After the shuttle bus takes the audience down a dark and desolate road, they will be dropped in a vacant lot and instructed to venture on to the torch lit path through the forest and cemetery in order to find HellsGate Haunted House. This Halloween season, challenge yourself to a truly terrifying interactive experience, where you must not only find the haunted house in the forest, but you must then find your way out (hint: the only way from the attic to the basement is down the slide). And for those who are able to keep their wits about them while trapped in the dark, if you find the key, your ticket is free.

This October, don't just go to a haunted house, go on a FEARventure!
